

JAN 30-31
THE LINCOLN GYM

HOMERATHON

When night falls on January 30 through when dawn breaks the next day, our Gym will be transformed into something older than time. Upperclassmen are invited to The Homerathon, an overnight vigil of story, strength, and steadfastness.

Together, students and teachers will read The Odyssey from first line to last, cover to cover. Between readings, the epic comes alive. Chariots will race, mock battles will test wit and courage, and challenges will echo the trials of Odysseus himself.

This is no ordinary evening, but a shared labor of mind and body, endurance and joy. Come ready to listen, to strive, to laugh, and to persevere. Come to discover what it means to journey with companions, to face the night together, and to greet the morning wiser than before.

THE TALE AWAITS.
THE NIGHT IS LONG, BUT WORTHY THINGS
ALWAYS ARE.
